

Dear Sirs, I respectfully urge you to not restrict the satellite radio providers from offering local content, such as weather and traffic channels. I travel to other cities in my business, and use Satellite radio to help me get to my destinations the most efficient way, as well as keep me informed of local weather conditions, etc. This new technology is an improvement over commercial radio, and could also be used to keep the local public informed in case of terrorist attack.

Sincerely,

Bill Klage